QUALIFICATION FOR INTERNATIONAL PROTECTION

Acts of persecution

7. (1) For the purposes of this Act, acts of persecution must be—

- (a) sufficiently serious by their nature or repetition to constitute a severe violation of basic human rights, in particular the rights from which derogation cannot be made under Article 15(2) of the European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, or
 - (b) an accumulation of various measures, including violations of human rights, which is sufficiently severe as to affect an individual in a similar manner as mentioned in paragraph (a).
- (2) The following are examples of acts which may amount to acts of persecution for the purposes of subsection (1):
- (a) acts of physical or mental violence, including acts of sexual violence;
 - (b) legal, administrative, police or judicial measures, or a combination of these measures, that are in themselves discriminatory or are implemented in a discriminatory manner;
 - (c) prosecution or punishment that is disproportionate or discriminatory;
 - (d) denial of judicial redress resulting in a disproportionate or discriminatory punishment;
 - (e) prosecution or punishment for refusal to perform military service in a conflict, where performing military service would include crimes or acts of a kind referred to in section 10(2);
 - (f) acts of a gender-specific or child-specific nature.
- (3) For the purpose of the definition of “refugee” in section 2, there must be a connection between the reasons for persecution and the acts of persecution or the absence of protection.

Reasons for persecution

8. (1) An international protection officer or the Tribunal, as the case may be, shall take the following into account when assessing the reasons for persecution:
- (a) the concept of race shall in particular include considerations of colour, descent or membership of a particular ethnic group;
 - (b) the concept of religion shall in particular include the holding of theistic, non-theistic and atheistic beliefs, the participation in, or abstention from, formal worship in private or in public, either alone or in community with others, other religious acts or expressions of view, or forms of personal or communal conduct based on or mandated by any religious belief;
 - (c) the concept of nationality shall not be confined to citizenship or lack thereof but shall in particular include membership of a group determined by its cultural, ethnic or linguistic identity, common geographical or political origins or its relationship with the population of another state;
 - (d) a group shall be considered to form a particular social group where in particular—

- (i) members of that group share an innate characteristic, or a common background that cannot be changed, or share a characteristic or belief that is so fundamental to identity or conscience that a person should not be forced to renounce it, or
 - (ii) that group has a distinct identity in the relevant country, because it is perceived as being different by the surrounding society,
- and, depending on the circumstances in the country of origin, a particular social group may include a group based on a common characteristic of sexual orientation;
- (e) the concept of political opinion shall in particular include the holding of an opinion, thought or belief on a matter related to the potential actors of persecution and to their policies or methods, whether or not that opinion, thought or belief has been acted upon by the applicant concerned.
- (2) In the assessment of whether an applicant has a well-founded fear of being persecuted, it is immaterial whether the applicant actually possesses the racial, religious, national, social or political characteristic which attracts the persecution, provided that such a characteristic is attributed to the applicant by the actor of persecution.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (1)(d):
- (a) sexual orientation shall not include acts considered to be criminal in the State;
 - (b) gender related aspects, including gender identity, shall be given due consideration for the purposes of determining membership of a particular social group or identifying a characteristic of such a group.

Cessation of refugee status

9. (1) A person shall cease to be a refugee if he or she—
- (a) has voluntarily re-availed himself or herself of the protection of the country of nationality,
 - (b) having lost his or her nationality, has voluntarily re-acquired it,
 - (c) has acquired a new nationality (other than as an Irish citizen), and enjoys the protection of the country of his or her new nationality,
 - (d) has voluntarily re-established himself or herself in the country which he or she left or outside which he or she remained owing to fear of persecution,
 - (e) subject to subsections (2) and (3), can no longer, because the circumstances in connection with which he or she has been recognised as a refugee have ceased to exist, continue to refuse to avail himself or herself of the protection of his or her country of nationality, or
 - (f) subject to subsections (2) and (3), being a stateless person, is able, because the circumstances in connection with which he or she has been recognised as a refugee have ceased to exist, to return to his or her country of former habitual residence.

- (2) In determining whether paragraph (e) or (f) of subsection (1) applies, regard shall be had to whether the change of circumstances is of such a significant and non-temporary nature that the person's fear of persecution can no longer be regarded as well-founded.
- (3) Paragraphs (e) and (f) of subsection (1) shall not apply to a refugee who is able to invoke compelling reasons arising out of previous persecution for refusing to avail himself or herself of the protection of his or her country of nationality or, being a stateless person, of the country of former habitual residence.

Exclusion from being a refugee

10. (1) A person is excluded under this Act from being a refugee where he or she—
 - (a) subject to subsection (4), is receiving from organs or agencies of the United Nations (other than the High Commissioner) protection or assistance, or
 - (b) is recognised by the competent authorities of the country in which he or she has taken up residence as having the rights and obligations which are attached to the possession of the nationality of that country, or rights and obligations equivalent to those.
- (2) A person is excluded from being a refugee where there are serious reasons for considering that he or she—
 - (a) has committed a crime against peace, a war crime, or a crime against humanity, as defined in the international instruments drawn up to make provision in respect of such crimes,
 - (b) has committed a serious non-political crime outside the State prior to his or her arrival in the State, or
 - (c) has been guilty of acts contrary to the purposes and principles of the United Nations as set out in the Preamble and Articles 1 and 2 of the Charter of the United Nations.
- (3) A person is excluded from being a refugee where there are serious reasons for considering that he or she has incited or otherwise participated in the commission of a crime or an act referred to in subsection (2).
- (4) Subsection (1)(a) shall not apply to a person referred to in that subparagraph where the protection or assistance concerned has ceased for any reason, without the position of persons who had been receiving that protection or assistance being definitively settled in accordance with the relevant resolutions adopted by the General Assembly of the United Nations.

Cessation of eligibility for subsidiary protection

11. (1) A person shall cease to be eligible for subsidiary protection when the circumstances which led to his or her eligibility for subsidiary protection have ceased to exist or have changed to such a degree that international protection is no longer required.
- (2) In determining whether subsection (1) applies, regard shall be had to whether the change of circumstances is of such a significant and non-temporary nature that the person no longer faces a real risk of serious harm.
- (3) Subsection (1) shall not apply to a person eligible for subsidiary protection who is able to invoke compelling reasons arising out of previous serious harm for refusing to avail himself or herself of the protection of his or her country of nationality or, being a stateless person, of the country of former habitual residence.

Exclusion from eligibility for subsidiary protection

12. (1) A person is excluded from being eligible for subsidiary protection where there are serious reasons for considering that he or she—

 - (b) has committed a serious crime,
 - (c) has been guilty of acts contrary to the purposes and principles of the United Nations as set out in the Preamble and Articles 1 and 2 of the Charter of the United Nations, or
 - (d) constitutes a danger to the community or to the security of the State.
- (2) A person is excluded from being eligible for subsidiary protection where there are serious reasons for considering that he or she has incited or otherwise participated in the commission of a crime or an act referred to in subsection (1).
- (3) A person is excluded from being eligible for subsidiary protection if he or she has, prior to his or her arrival in the State, committed a crime, not referred to in subsection (1), which, if committed in the State, would be punishable by imprisonment and if he or she left his or her country of origin solely in order to avoid sanctions resulting from that crime.

Duty of applicant to cooperate

27. (1) It shall be the duty of an applicant—
- (a) to submit as soon as reasonably practicable all the information needed to substantiate his or her application,
 - (b) to co-operate in the examination of his or her application and in the determination of his or her appeal in relation to that application, if any, and
 - (c) to comply with all of the other obligations under Parts 3 to 6 of an applicant in relation to his or her application.
- (2) The information referred to in subsection (1) consists of statements by the applicant, and all documentation at his or her disposal, regarding the elements, referred to in section 28(3), of his or her application.

Assessment of facts and circumstances

28. (1) An international protection officer shall, in co-operation with the applicant, assess the relevant elements of the application.
- (2) The Tribunal shall, for the purposes of an appeal under section 41 in co-operation with the applicant, assess the relevant elements of the application.
- (3) The elements referred to in subsections (1) and (2) consist of the applicant's statements and all the documents submitted by him or her regarding his or her—
- (a) age,
 - (b) background, including that of relevant relatives,
 - (c) identity,

- (4) The assessment, by the international protection officer of an application, and by the Tribunal of an appeal under section 41, shall be carried out on an individual basis and shall include taking into account the following:

- (a) all relevant facts as they relate to the country of origin at the time of taking a decision on the application, including laws and regulations of the country of origin and the manner in which they are applied;
 - (b) the relevant statements and documentation presented by the applicant including information on whether the applicant has been or may be subject to persecution or serious harm;
 - (c) the individual position and personal circumstances of the applicant, including factors such as background, gender and age, so as to assess whether, on the basis of the applicant's personal circumstances, the acts to which the applicant has been or could be exposed would amount to persecution or serious harm;
 - (d) whether the applicant's activities since leaving the country of origin were engaged in for the sole or main purpose of creating the necessary conditions for applying for international protection, so as to assess whether those activities will expose the applicant to persecution or serious harm if returned to that country;
 - (e) whether the applicant could reasonably be expected to avail himself or herself of the protection of another country where he or she could assert citizenship;
 - (f) the general credibility of the applicant.
- (5) (a) In the assessment of an application, an international protection officer shall, in the case of an applicant who was a child at the time of a relevant occurrence or at any time during which a relevant circumstance existed, take account of the applicant's age at that time and the level of understanding that could reasonably be expected of a child of that age.
- (b) In the conduct of an appeal under section 41, the Tribunal shall, in the case of an applicant who was a child at the time of a relevant occurrence or at any time during which a relevant circumstance existed, take account of the applicant's age at that time and the level of understanding that could reasonably be expected of a child of that age.
- (c) In this subsection—
- “relevant circumstance” means, in relation to an application, a circumstance that falls to be considered in the assessment of the application;
- “relevant occurrence” means, in relation to an application, an occurrence that falls to be considered in the assessment of the application.
- (6) The fact that an applicant has already been subject to persecution or serious harm, or to direct threats of such persecution or such serious harm, is a serious indication of the applicant's well-founded fear of persecution or real risk of suffering serious harm, unless there are good reasons to consider that such persecution or serious harm will not be repeated.
- (7) Where aspects of the applicant's statements are not supported by documentary or other evidence, those aspects shall not need confirmation where the international protection officer or, as the case may be, the Tribunal, is satisfied that—

- (a) the applicant has made a genuine effort to substantiate his or her application,
- (b) all relevant elements at the applicant's disposal have been submitted and a satisfactory explanation regarding any lack of other relevant elements has been given,
- (c) the applicant's statements are found to be coherent and plausible and do not run counter to available specific and general information relevant to the applicant's case,
- (d) the applicant has applied for international protection at the earliest possible time, unless the applicant can demonstrate good reason for not having done so, and
- (e) the general credibility of the applicant has been established.

International protection needs arising sur place

- 29. (1) For the purposes of this Act, a well-founded fear of being persecuted or a real risk of suffering serious harm may be based on events which have taken place since the applicant left his or her country of origin.
- (2) A well-founded fear of being persecuted or a real risk of suffering serious harm may be based on activities which have been engaged in by the applicant since he or she left his or her country of origin, in particular where it is established that the activities relied upon constitute the expression and continuation of convictions or orientations held in the country of origin.
- (3) Without prejudice to the Geneva Convention, an applicant who is the subject of an application made with the consent of the Minister given under section 22 shall not normally be—
- (a) the subject of a recommendation by the international protection officer under section 39 that he or she is a person in respect of whom a refugee declaration should be given, or
 - (b) the subject of a decision by the Tribunal under section 46 to recommend that he or she is a person in respect of whom a refugee declaration should be given,
- if the risk of persecution is based on circumstances which the applicant has created by his or her own decision since leaving his or her country of origin.

Actors of persecution or serious harm

- 30. For the purposes of this Act, actors of persecution or serious harm include—
- (a) a state,
 - (b) parties or organisations controlling a state or a substantial part of the territory of a state, and

Actors of protection

- 31. (1) For the purposes of this Act, protection against persecution or serious harm can only be provided by—
- (a) a state, or
 - (b) parties or organisations, including international organisations, controlling a state or a substantial part of the territory of a state,
- provided that they are willing and able to offer protection in accordance with subsection (2).
- (2) Protection against persecution or serious harm—
- (a) must be effective and of a non-temporary nature, and
 - (b) shall be regarded as being generally provided where—
 - (i) the actors referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (1) take reasonable steps to prevent the persecution or suffering of serious harm, and
 - (ii) the applicant has access to such protection.
- (3) When assessing whether an international organisation controls a state or a substantial part of its territory and provides protection as described in subsection (2), the Minister, the international protection officer or, as the case may be, the Tribunal, shall take into account any guidance which may be provided in relevant European Union acts.
- (4) The steps referred to in subsection (2)(b)(i) shall include the operating of an effective legal system for the detection, prosecution and punishment of acts constituting persecution or serious harm.

Internal protection

- 32. (1) An international protection officer may recommend or, as the case may be, the Tribunal may decide, that an applicant is not in need of international protection if in a part of the country of origin the applicant—
- (a) has—
 - (i) no well-founded fear of being persecuted or is not at real risk of suffering serious harm, or
 - (ii) access to protection against persecution or serious harm,
 - and
 - (b) can safely and legally travel to and gain admittance to that part of the country and can reasonably be expected to settle there.
- (2) An international protection officer or, as the case may be, the Tribunal, in examining whether an applicant has a well-founded fear of being persecuted or is at real risk of suffering serious harm, or has access to protection against persecution or serious harm in a part of the country of origin in accordance with subsection (1), shall have regard to the general circumstances prevailing in that part of the country and to the personal circumstances of the applicant in accordance with section 28.

- (3) An international protection officer or, as the case may be, the Tribunal, in complying with this section, shall ensure that precise and up-to-date information is obtained from relevant sources, such as the High Commissioner and the European Asylum Support Office.

Applicant from safe country of origin

- 33. A country that has been designated under section 72 as a safe country of origin shall, for the purposes of the assessment of an application for international protection, be considered to be a safe country of origin in relation to a particular applicant only where—
- (a) the country is the country of origin of the applicant, and
 - (b) the applicant has not submitted any serious grounds for considering the country not to be a safe country of origin in his or her particular circumstances and in terms of his or her eligibility for international protection.

EXAMINATION OF APPLICATIONS AT FIRST INSTANCE

Examination of application

- 34. An international protection officer shall examine each application for international protection for the purpose of deciding whether to recommend, under section 39(2)(b), that—

- (2) An applicant interviewed under subsection (1) shall, whenever necessary for the purpose of ensuring appropriate communication during a personal interview, be provided by the Minister or international protection officer with the services of an interpreter.

- (3) The Minister, for the purpose of ensuring that personal interviews are conducted under conditions that allow the applicant to present the grounds for his or her application in a comprehensive manner shall—
- (a) ensure that the persons who conduct the personal interviews are sufficiently competent to take account of the personal or general circumstances surrounding the application, including the applicant's cultural origin or vulnerability, insofar as it is possible to do so, and
 - (b) in the case of interviews to which subsection (2) applies, select interpreters who are able to ensure appropriate communication between the applicant and the person who conducts the interview.
- (4) The requirement in subsection (3)(b) shall be regarded as complied with if interpretation is provided in a language that the applicant may reasonably be supposed to understand and in which he or she is able to communicate.
- (5) A personal interview shall—
- (a) take place without the presence of family members of the applicant unless the international protection officer considers it necessary for an appropriate examination to have other family members present, and
 - (b) take place under conditions that ensure appropriate confidentiality.

- (a) the High Commissioner, whenever he or she so requests;
 - (b) the applicant's legal representative or a person nominated by that legal representative, with the consent of the applicant.

- (b) For the purposes of paragraph (a), the interviewer may make such inquiries of or about the applicant and the adult concerned as the interviewer considers necessary in order to satisfy himself or herself that the adult is taking the responsibility referred to in paragraph (a) and is authorised to do so.
- (c) Where the interviewer (whether or not having made appropriate enquiries under paragraph (b)) is not satisfied either that the adult is taking responsibility for the applicant or that the adult is authorised to do so, he or she shall so inform the Child and Family Agency, and
- (i) it shall be presumed that the applicant is a child in need of care and protection, and
 - (ii) the Child Care Acts 1991 to 2013, the Child and Family Agency Act 2013 and other enactments relating to the care and welfare of persons who have not attained the age of 18 years shall apply.

- (a) based on the available evidence, the applicant is a person in respect of whom a refugee declaration should be given,
 - (b) where the applicant has not attained the age of 18 years, he or she is of such an age and degree of maturity that an interview would not usefully advance the examination, or
 - (c) the applicant is unfit or unable to be interviewed owing to circumstances that are enduring and beyond his or her control.
- (9) Subsection (8) shall not of itself operate to—
- (a) prevent information relating to the application from being submitted to the international protection officer by or on behalf of the applicant,
 - (b) prevent the international protection officer from making a recommendation under section 39 in respect of the application, or
 - (c) adversely affect the recommendation referred to in paragraph (b).
- (10) The applicant, the High Commissioner or any other person concerned may make representations in writing to the Minister in relation to any matter relevant to an examination of an application for international protection and the international protection officer shall take account of any such representations made before or during a personal interview.
- (11) Subsection (10) shall not be construed as preventing the international protection officer from taking into account any representations made following a personal interview provided that such representations are made prior to the preparation of the report under section 39(1) in relation to the application.
- (12) Following the conclusion of a personal interview, the interviewer shall prepare a report in writing of the interview.
- (13) The report prepared under subsection (12) shall comprise two parts—
- (a) one of which shall include anything that is, in the opinion of the international protection officer, relevant to the application, and
 - (b) the other of which shall include anything that would, in the opinion of the international protection officer, be relevant to the Minister's decision under section 48 or 49, in the event that the section concerned were to apply to the applicant.

Applicants to whom section 15(4) applies

36. Where section 15(4) applies to an applicant, the Minister shall, taking the best interests of the child as a primary consideration, ensure that—

- and
- (c) the report of the personal interview together with the report under section 39 in respect of the applicant's application is prepared by a person with the necessary knowledge of the special needs of persons who have not attained the age of 18 years.

 - (ii) inform the High Commissioner of the fact that the application is withdrawn.

Failure by applicant to cooperate

38. (1) Where an applicant does not attend for a personal interview on the date and at the time fixed under section 35(1) for the interview then, unless the applicant, not later than 3 working days from that date, furnishes the Minister with an explanation for the non-attendance which in the opinion of the Minister is reasonable in the circumstances, subsection (5) shall apply to the applicant.

- (2) Where the Minister is of the opinion that an applicant—
 - (a) has failed, or is failing, in his or her duty under section 27 to co-operate, or

 - (d) include a statement of the effect of subsection (5) and of section 22(2)(c).
- (4) Where—
 - (a) an applicant to whom a notice under subsection (2) is sent does not furnish the confirmation referred to in subsection (3)(b), or
 - (b) the Minister, having considered the observations (if any) made by the applicant referred to in subsection (3)(a) and the confirmation of the applicant referred to in subsection (3)(b), is of the opinion that the applicant has failed, or is failing, to comply with any of the obligations referred to in subsection (3)(c), subsection (5) shall apply to the applicant.
- (5)
 - (a) Where this subsection applies to an applicant, the applicant's application shall be examined on the basis of the information referred to in paragraph (b) only.

- (4) Where a report under this section includes a recommendation of the international protection officer referred to in subsection (3)(c), the report may also include one or more of the following findings:

 - (b) that the applicant has made inconsistent, contradictory, improbable or insufficient representations which make his or her claim to be eligible for international protection clearly unconvincing;

SCHEDULE 1
TEXT OF 1951 CONVENTION RELATING TO THE STATUS OF REFUGEES

Section 2

CONVENTION RELATING TO THE STATUS OF REFUGEES DONE AT GENEVA ON 28
JULY 1951

PREAMBLE

THE HIGH CONTRACTING PARTIES,

Considering that the Charter of the United Nations and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights approved on 10 December 1948 by the General Assembly have affirmed the principle that human beings shall enjoy fundamental rights and freedoms without discrimination,

Considering that the United Nations has, on various occasions, manifested its profound concern for refugees and endeavoured to assure refugees the widest possible exercise of these fundamental rights and freedoms,

Considering that it is desirable to revise and consolidate previous international agreements relating to the status of refugees and to extend the scope of and protection accorded by such instruments by means of a new agreement,

Considering that the grant of asylum may place unduly heavy burdens on certain countries, and that a satisfactory solution of a problem of which the United Nations has recognized the international scope and nature cannot therefore be achieved without international co-operation,

Expressing the wish that all States, recognizing the social and humanitarian nature of the problem of refugees, will do everything within their power to prevent this problem from becoming a cause of tension between States,

Noting that the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees is charged with the task of supervising international conventions providing for the protection of Refugees, and recognizing that the effective co-ordination of measures taken to deal with this problem will depend upon the co-operation of States with the High Commissioner,

Have agreed as follows:

CHAPTER I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1

Definition of the term "Refugee"

- A. For the purposes of the present Convention, the term "refugee" shall apply to any person who:
- (1) Has been considered a refugee under the Arrangements of 12 May 1926 and 30 June 1928 or under the Conventions of 28 October 1933 and 10 February 1938, the Protocol of 14 September 1939 or the Constitution of the International Refugee Organization;

Decisions of non-eligibility taken by the International Refugee Organization during the period of its activities shall not prevent the status of refugee being accorded to persons who fulfil the conditions of paragraph 2 of this section;

- (2) As a result of events occurring before 1 January 1951 and owing to well-founded fear of being persecuted for reasons of race, religion, nationality, membership of a particular social group or political opinion, is outside the country of his nationality and is unable or, owing to such fear, is unwilling to avail himself of the protection of that country; or who, not having a nationality and being outside the country of his former habitual residence as a result of such events, is unable or, owing to such fear, is unwilling to return to it.

In the case of a person who has more than one nationality, the term “the country of his nationality” shall mean each of the countries of which he is a national, and a person shall not be deemed to be lacking the protection of the country of his nationality if, without any valid reason based on well-founded fear, he has not availed himself of the protection of one of the countries of which he is a national.

- B. (1) For the purposes of this Convention, the words “events occurring before 1 January 1951” in Article 1, Section A, shall be understood to mean either:
 - (a) “events occurring in Europe before 1 January 1951”; or
 - (b) “events occurring in Europe or elsewhere before 1 January 1951”, and each Contracting State shall make a declaration at the time of signature, ratification or accession, specifying which of these meanings it applies for the purpose of its obligations under this Convention.
- (2) Any Contracting State which has adopted alternative (a) may at any time extend its obligations by adopting alternative (b) by means of a notification addressed to the Secretary-General of the United Nations.
- C. This Convention shall cease to apply to any person falling under the terms of Section A if:
 - (1) He has voluntarily re-availed himself of the protection of the country of his nationality; or
 - (2) Having lost his nationality, he has voluntarily re-acquired it; or
 - (3) He has acquired a new nationality, and enjoys the protection of the country of his new nationality; or
 - (4) He has voluntarily re-established himself in the country which he left or outside which he remained owing to fear of persecution; or
 - (5) He can no longer, because the circumstances in connexion with which he has been recognized as a refugee have ceased to exist, continue to refuse to avail himself of the protection of the country of his nationality;

Provided that this paragraph shall not apply to a refugee failing under section A(1) of this Article who is able to invoke compelling reasons arising out of previous persecution for refusing to avail himself of the protection of the country of nationality;

- (6) Being a person who has no nationality he is, because the circumstances in connexion with which he has been recognized as a refugee have ceased to exist, able to return to the country of his former habitual residence;

Provided that this paragraph shall not apply to a refugee falling under section A(1) of this Article who is able to invoke compelling reasons arising out of previous persecution for refusing to return to the country of his former habitual residence.

- D. This Convention shall not apply to persons who are at present receiving from organs or agencies of the United Nations other than the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees protection or assistance.

When such protection or assistance has ceased for any reason, without the position of such persons being definitively settled in accordance with the relevant resolutions adopted by the General Assembly of the United Nations, these persons shall ipso facto be entitled to the benefits of this Convention.

- E. This Convention shall not apply to a person who is recognized by the competent authorities of the country in which he has taken residence as having the rights and obligations which are attached to the possession of the nationality of that country.
- F. The provisions of this Convention shall not apply to any person with respect to whom there are serious reasons for considering that:
- (a) he has committed a crime against peace, a war crime, or a crime against humanity, as defined in the international instruments drawn up to make provision in respect of such crimes;
 - (b) he has committed a serious non-political crime outside the country of refuge prior to his admission to that country as a refugee;
 - (c) he has been guilty of acts contrary to the purposes and principles of the United Nations.

Article 5Rights granted apart from this Convention

Nothing in this Convention shall be deemed to impair any rights and benefits granted by a Contracting State to refugees apart from this Convention.

Article 6The term “in the same circumstances”

For the purpose of this Convention, the term “in the same circumstances” implies that any requirements (including requirements as to length and conditions of sojourn or residence) which the particular individual would have to fulfil for the enjoyment of the right in question, if he were not a refugee, must be fulfilled by him, with the exception of requirements which by their nature a refugee is incapable of fulfilling.

Article 7Exemption from reciprocity

1. Except where this Convention contains more favourable provisions, a Contracting State shall accord to refugees the same treatment as is accorded to aliens generally.
2. After a period of three years' residence, all refugees shall enjoy exemption from legislative reciprocity in the territory of the Contracting States.
3. Each Contracting State shall continue to accord to refugees the rights and benefits to which they were already entitled, in the absence of reciprocity, at the date of entry into force of this Convention for that State.

5. The provisions of paragraphs 2 and 3 apply both to the rights and benefits referred to in articles 13, 18, 19, 21 and 22 of this Convention and to rights and benefits for which this Convention does not provide.

Article 8Exemption from exceptional measures

With regard to exceptional measures which may be taken against the person, property or interests of nationals of a foreign State, the Contracting States shall not apply such measures to a refugee who is formally a national of the said State solely on account of such nationality. Contracting States which, under their legislation, are prevented from applying the general principle expressed in this article, shall, in appropriate cases, grant exemptions in favour of such refugees.

Article 9

Provisional measures

Nothing in this Convention shall prevent a Contracting State, in time of war or other grave and exceptional circumstances, from taking provisionally measures which it considers to be essential to the national security in the case of a particular person, pending a determination by the Contracting State that that person is in fact a refugee and that the continuance of such measures is necessary in his case in the interests of national security.

Article 10

Continuity of residence

1. Where a refugee has been forcibly displaced during the Second World War and removed to the territory of a Contracting State, and is resident there, the period of such enforced sojourn shall be considered to have been lawful residence within that territory.
2. Where a refugee has been forcibly displaced during the Second World War from the territory of a Contracting State and has, prior to the date of entry into force of this Convention, returned there for the purpose of taking up residence, the period of residence before and after such enforced displacement shall be regarded as one uninterrupted period for any purposes for which uninterrupted residence is required.

The States Parties to the present Protocol,

Considering that the Convention relating to the Status of Refugees done at Geneva on 28 July 1951 (hereinafter referred to as the Convention) covers only those persons who have become refugees as a result of events occurring before 1 January 1951,

Considering that new refugee situations have arisen since the Convention was adopted and that the refugees concerned may therefore not fall within the scope of the Convention,

2. For the purpose of the present Protocol, the term “refugee” shall, except as regards the application of paragraph 3 of this article, mean any person within the definition of article 1 of the Convention as if the words “As a result of events occurring before 1 January 1951 and...” and the words “... as a result of such events”, in article 1 A (2) were omitted.
3. The present Protocol shall be applied by the States Parties hereto without any geographic limitation, save that existing declarations made by States already Parties to the Convention in accordance with article 1 B (1)(a) of the Convention, shall, unless extended under article 1 B (2) thereof, apply also under the present Protocol.

Article II

Co-operation of the national authorities with the United Nations

1. The States Parties to the present Protocol undertake to co-operate with the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, or any other agency of the United Nations which may succeed it, in the exercise of its functions, and shall in particular facilitate its duty of supervising the application of the provisions of the present Protocol.
2. In order to enable the Office of the High Commissioner, or any other agency of the United Nations which may succeed it to make reports to the competent organs of the United Nations, the States Parties to the present Protocol undertake to provide them with the information and statistical data requested, in the appropriate form, concerning:

- (c) A Federal State Party to the present Protocol shall, at the request of any other State Party hereto transmitted through the Secretary-General of the United Nations, supply a statement of the law and practice of the Federation and its constituent units in regard to any particular provision of the Convention to be applied in accordance with article I, paragraph 1, of the present Protocol, showing the extent to which effect has been given to that provision by legislative or other action.
