EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Instrument and does not purport to be a legal Interpretation.)

These amendments to the Trade Marks Rules, 1996 align with amendments made in primary trade marks legislation, in the context of the Intellectual Property (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 2014, aimed at facilitating Ireland's accession to the Singapore Treaty on the Law of Trademarks.

The amendments to Rule 63(1), (3) and (4) of the Trade Marks Rules, 1996 are necessary in order to remove conditions, explanations or consideration of the effect on third parties of the extension of a time limit, for an action in a procedure before the Patents Office.

The amendment to Rule 63(6) of the Trade Marks Rules, 1996 relates to time periods at times of interruption, failure or delays in the communication service of the State or the Patents Office.

The amendments to Rule 79 of the Trade Marks Rules, 1996 are necessary in order to ensure that any forms used in a proceeding before the Patents Office do not contain elements additional to those allowed in the Singapore Treaty on the Law of Trademarks.
